National Security

Jan/Feb 2018

National Security supports activities that address the practical and emotional wellbeing of military service members and their families. I stated at Fall Conference that there are six commissaries that accept coupons and that I would get those addresses to you in the next Unit mailing. That seems like a long time ago, but here they are.

Commissaries that accept coupons:

It looks as though our cold weather is here to stay. Are you prepared? Are there homeless vets and/or older vets in your community that your Unit is able to help. Remember the families of deployed military. Perhaps that young mother or father needs help with winterizing. Don't forget to have an emergency kit in your vehicle.

Packages to troops overseas—don't just need to be at Christmas time. They appreciate being remembered year round. One member contacted me through the Department office as to cards for deployed military. She didn't want to send cards, but rather asked about giving cards to them that they could sign and send to family and friends. What a wonderful idea! In your next package to troops think about including assorted cards for their use.

May you all have a blessed and Merry Christmas and Happy New Year.
